New order cut-off time and delivery days starting — Monday, 2 October 2023!

Dear valued customer,

Loaf Limited has been going through some necessary operational changes and fixes to ensure products are delivered on time and to specification. To do this we (Service Foods) have been advised following change.

As of Monday, 2nd October 2023 we are changing the timing on when we accept and deliver daily fresh orders.

The current system is:

Order today before 2pm for the next day delivery.

THE NEW SYSTEM IS:

Order today before 4pm for the delivery on the following day.

Loaf will be delivering 5 days a week (Tuesday to Saturday), so instead of ordering for the next day it would be one ahead.

PLEASE SEE THE EXAMPLE SCHEDULE BELOW:

Order Monday by 4pm - Delivery Wednesday morning

Order Tuesday by 4pm - Delivery Thursday morning

Order Wednesday by 4pm - Delivery Friday morning

Order Thursday by 4pm - Delivery Saturday morning

Order between Friday and Sunday 4pm - Delivery Tuesday morning

The reasoning for this change is that Loaf are trying to improve efficiency in the business by having a slightly longer lead time. This will assist the business in keeping labour costs under control and potentially minimizing any future price increases due to cost pressure.

Loaf will not be changing the timings on when the breads are baked, simply having the final number at the beginning of the day instead of the end of the day helps plan the human resources more efficiently.

This will also ensure the best quality product are provided on time and delivered in full to all our customers.

Please do not hesitate to contact your Service Foods sales representative if you have any further questions.
